

You are cordially invited To A Live
Screening Of Eishyshok On National
Geographic's "Masters of Death"

Come See Yourself Live On National TV!

When: August 2, 2009 7pm

Where: The Jewish Children's Museum
792 Eastern Parkway, Brooklyn, NY 11213
(Corner of Kingston Ave)

RSVP: Shirley Grynbal (718) 241-3692
Raanan Isseroff – museum@shtetlfoundation.org

Cost: The Event is Free - However we are asking that people
Please donate if possible to cover costs

Featured in the film will be everyone who attended our last Eishyshok Society meeting in October !
Producer Peter Hankoff traveled to Eishyshok to get current footage of the town.

Featured families in the film: Dr. Yaffa Eliach, Interview with Tzvi
Michalovski, Aframe, Defalco, Mosczenik, Botwinik, Epstein,
Rosensweig, Grynbal, Shlanski's Lubetz, Juris and more!

Plus: See the newest Eishyshker!

Mazal Tov to Caryn & Barry Pomerantz!

Schedule of Events:

7pm Nosh and Introduction by Supervising Producer Peter Hankoff

8 -9pm Early Pre-Screening of the National Geographic Documentary "Masters of Death"

9pm Speakers: Yaffa Eliach and Shifra Broida Hendrie

10-11pm Live TV Screening of Eishyshok Film on National Geographic Channel

11pm Go Home and come back September 13, 12:00 noon for Eishyshok Society Meeting!

Directions:

Train: #3 train to Kingston Avenue Station – Museum is upstairs

Bus: B-43 to Eastern Parkway. Get off in front of Children's Museum